NOTES.

Admission, Course of Study, etc.

THE Seminary is open for the admission of Students from every denomination of Christians.

Every person applying for admission, must produce a certificate of his good standing in some evangelical Church ; and must either present testimonials of his having had a regular college education, or submit to an examination by the Faculty, on the branches usually taught in such a course. It is desirable that every person intending to enter the Seminary, should bring all his testimonials with him in the first instance.

Students from other Theological Seminaries may be admitted ad eundem, on presenting a certificate of regular dismissal and good standing. Students may also at any time be admitted to either of the classes, provided they shall be found qualified by the Faculty, on actual examination.

The academic year consists of a single term, beginning on the first Wednesday in September, and ending on the Monday next preceding the second Thursday in May ; on which day the public anniversary is held. The annual public examination of the classes commences at least one week before the anniversary.

It is highly important, that persons intending to join the Seminary should be present at the opening of the academic year, or as soon thereafter as possible. After a few weeks, they can be admitted only on probation or by examination.

The regular course of theological study in the Seminary occupies three full years. It is intended that instruction in each of the departments shall be given, to some extent, in each of the three years. The general order of study in the different departments is as follows :

JUNIOR CLASS.

BIBLICAL.—Hebrew Grammar and Exercises. Portions of the Pentateuch and Psalms in Hebrew.—Lectures on Hermeneutics. Exegesis of the Four Gospels in the Greek Harmony, etc.

THEOLOGICAL.—Mental and Moral Science. Natural Theology. The Evidences. Inspiration and Canon of Scripture.

HOMILETICAL.—Lectures on the Church.

HISTORICAL.—Lectures on the History of the Old Testament.—A course of Lectures on Theological Encyclopædia is also given.

MIDDLE CLASS.

THEOLOGICAL.—The Doctrinal Course.

BIBLICAL.—Hebrew Exegesis : Ecclesiastes, the Minor Prophets, etc.—Greek Exegesis : Epistles of the New Testament.

HOMILETICAL.—Lectures on Pastoral Theology.

HISTORICAL.—History of the Church in the Apostolic Times.

SENIOR CLASS.

HOMILETICAL.—Lectures on the Composition and Delivery of Sermons, with exercises.

HISTORICAL.—The General History of the Christian Church ; with Lectures on the History of Doctrines, and on Symbolism.

BIBLICAL.—Hebrew Exegesis : The Minor Prophets, Isaiah, Job, etc.—Greek Exegesis : Epistles of the New Testament.

THEOLOGICAL.—Conclusion of the Doctrinal Course.

ALL THE CLASSES.

In each department the students write essays, on the most important topics, through the three years. Public Declamation once a week. Public Debates, at which the Professors preside, once a fortnight. Private exercises in Elocution and the Criticism of Sermons. Occasional lectures on Biblical Geography.

On one evening in each month, there are public exercises by the members of the Senior Class.

Regular instruction is usually given in Sacred Music. Lectures are also occasionally delivered on other subjects connected with Theological Study.

Students who desire it, have likewise access to lectures in the Medical Colleges.

The Library.

The Library of the Seminary contains about 23,000 volumes, chiefly rare and valuable works ; about three fourths of which are from the library of Leander Van Ess. A large number of volumes have been added during the present year.

Rooms, Expenses, etc.

The Seminary was founded on the 18th of January, 1836 ; and was opened for instruction December 5th, 1836. The edifice is No. 9 University Place, near Washington Square. It has recently been greatly enlarged, and now contains a Chapel, Library, four Lecture Rooms, and convenient private rooms and dormitories for about eighty students. The rooms have been furnished with carpets, chairs, tables, beds and bedding, chiefly through the liberality of one of the friends of the Seminary.

The students have a Boarding Association in the Seminary, in which the average price of board has never been more than $2 a week, and is sometimes less. Washing is done at an expense not exceeding fifty cents a dozen. The cost of fuel need not exceed five dollars a year for each person. Gas is introduced into all the rooms.

Students whose circumstances require it, have ready access to the usual sources of aid from Education Societies. There is also frequent opportunity of employment as teachers, for a few hours in a week, in schools or in private families ; or as leaders of the choirs in churches ; or in connection with benevolent societies ; or in local missionary labour ; and many students are now receiving from two to five dollars, or more, a week in this way, without interfering with their regular studies. Similar opportunities are also within the reach of those acquainted with any art or trade.

Experience has fully proved, that every student who needs it, and who is willing to make suitable exertions, can have sufficient opportunity to obtain support. And such sources of aid and support are constantly increasing.

Students in straitened circumstances, who cannot at once find such employment, can have aid (in addition to that furnished by Education Societies) to the amount of half their board, so long as may be necessary.

Every student is subject to a charge of ten dollars a year, for the general expenses of the Seminary. But no further charge is made, either for rooms, library, or instruction.

General Remarks.

Public Worship on the Lord's day is not held in the Seminary. The students are expected each to worship regularly with some one of the evangelical churches of New York, Brooklyn, or the vicinity.

It was the design of the founders of the Seminary, that its students should remain under pastoral influence, and perform the duties of church-members, in the several churches to which they belong, or with which they worship. They thus have an introduction to the society and intercourse of Christians ; they take part in prayer-meetings, and in the instruction of Sabbath schools and Bible-classes ; and become conversant with all the benevolent efforts of the present day, in this great community. In this way they have the opportunity of adding to piety and solid learning the teachings of experience.

In the results thus far, the hopes of the founders have not been disappointed. It has been satisfactorily shown, that the opportunities and advantages afforded by a large city for practical preparation and training in the profession of Theology and the Pastoral Office, are not less numerous and important than in the sister professions of Law and Medicine.
